HODGE, Calif., April 3.—Important in city government. Berlin, which makes city rule a science, not a craft, is gradually rounding off corners on streets with heavy traffic. Big omnibuses can turn round corners without pulling out into the street, interfering with other vehicles.

The used airplane problem already causes anxiety. With constant improvement, passenger planes become obsolete, while still in safe working order. Highly expensive machines, they have little secondhand value. The problem is to use, profitably, the flying life remaining in them.

Mr. Walter S. Marvin of the Curtis Co., suggests the use of the planes to bring fresh fish north from below the Mexican boundary. Passenger planes could carry loads sufficiently heavy to make the traffic profitable. It should be profitable also, to use planes for transporting fruits ripe, and delivered within a few hours of picking. Slow transportation by rail makes it necessary to pick strawberries and other fruits green, marketing an inferior product. Airplane would be cheap. Watching his thermometer, the pilot would fly up to the right temperature.

The Government should use many planes, obsolete but safe, to stamp out the boll weevil and other pests that cost the nation each year 100 times the value of all its airplanes.

It shows that "quitting" cotton fields with insect-killing poisons at the right time kills the weevil. Spending a few millions in this work might save hundreds of millions yearly for all future time. Planes could be used also to replace with any trees dead or overgrown by fire or cut over by lumbermen. The French did that after the war.

Gov. General Mahabha Gandhi fostered salt in the marshes to show his contempt for British government, which exploits the salt monopoly. Seven thousand Hindu railroad men refused to Gandhi, offer to lie on the tracks and let trains run over their heads in British locomotives. British confiscates the salt as fast as Gandhi collects it, saying it is not clean enough for human consumption, and arrests the railroad workers.

Those gentle Hindus should study European and American methods to get independence. When American locomotive engineers had their big strike, they did not lie down on the tracks. They loaded a flat car with giant powder, ran it into a roundhouse and blew the locomotives to pieces.

Sad and true, gentleness wins few fights.

At Point Barrow, Alaska, police have been near famine for lack of land game, with mountaineers checking the harbor and making fishing impossible. Early on Sunday morning the fish disappeared, but no native went out in his kayak until midnight.

They are Christians now and take seriously the good missionary's warning that if they fish every Sunday they will learn something about heat unknown in Alaska. Those Christian natives would be surprised to see prosperous, civilized Christianity here and elsewhere, playing and fishing and otherwise NOT taking religious teachings too seriously.

Various things. Hunters for the American Museum of Natural History are returning to America, bringing three specimens of the long-haired Siberian tiger. You will soon see them stuffed. In Chile, villagers living at the foot of the volcano Osorno, live from great streams of scalding water, gushing from 2,000 feet high. A big and temporarily important battle between Christian and heathen is expected every day. A Chinaman or Tatarian is needed to control that situation.

How great is money's power. When the Turkish Sultan lived, to cross the threshold of his house was death. Now, by his wife's order, you may enter and look around on payment of 25 cents. For that small sum you see the bed in which the beautiful Sultana Kermat died, her beauty "Body of the Moon," was strangled by the Sultan's order with the cords of her bed curtains.

Mexico's government wisely forbids the manufacture of alcohol for that small sum you see the bed in which the beautiful Sultana Kermat died, her beauty "Body of the Moon," was strangled by the Sultan's order with the cords of her bed curtains.

Police in 7 N. End Raids Get No Rum

Capt. Patterson and Lieut. Hines Lead Squad in Dash; Protection Is Alleged

In an unexpected burst of activity, resulting from complaints of protection of liquor resorts in the North End, headquarters squads made seven raids today in North and South End.

A surprise feature of the raids was the fact that the raiding forces of the squads were temporarily relieved of their commands and assigned to remain at headquarters while their men visited liquor resorts.

Five places were entered in North and two in South End, but as far as could be learned no liquor was found.

The raiders were in command of Capt. George W. Patterson, who is covered by the police, while the other squads were headed by Lieut. Daniel J. Hines, Capt. Robert E. Hines, and Special Officer Bernard McGinnis.

The complaints charged that certain houses were being protected by ranking officers in the liquor squad, and that these officers made frequent raids on other places not protected.

The policemen, augmented by a number of regular patrolmen detailed to assist them, were loaded in eight automobiles at headquarters, where the members of the liquor squad had been ordered to report.

The machines rolled swiftly down to the North End, creating much excitement in the district as the officers piled out and rushed into the suspected places.

Crowds gathered, cheering the raiders.

Police Had Reveals Alleged Called Him Into Conference

The public hearing of the attorney-general's investigation of Oliver J. Garrett developed four distinct high spots today during the concluding examination of Police Commissioner Herbert A. Wilson.

1—The intimation was made by Special Asst. Atty.-Gen. Hall that Garrett was questioned while under charges because Commissioner Wilson feared he would "blow the lid."

2—Wilson made a vehement and dramatic denial that he ever received a cent of graft, and Hall exonerated him on the basis of information in his possession.

3—Wilson revealed an examination by his own attorney that Governor Allen on Jan. 28 had suggested the examination of Garrett at a conference of President Gaspar Bacon of the Senate and Asst. Atty.-Gen. Roger Clapp.

4—That following the meeting he met Clapp at the Yale Club and the assistant attorney-general wrote for him a letter regarding the Garrett re-examination to Senator Bacon.

Near the close of Wilson's examination Hall attempted without success to force the police commissioner to admit that he did not need Garrett a resignation blank because if Garrett was allowed to resign he would be in a position to carry out his purported threat to "blow the lid."

Wilson's denial that the former liquor dealer was silenced by his pension—a pension opposed by Supt. Michael H. Crowley and Capt. James J. McDevitt—Hall disclosed the existence of a police rule which forbids policemen to discuss the department's affairs, and his questions were tantamount to a direct accusation that Wilson had at forward Garrett a resignation blank because he feared his neighbor would expose the charges pigeon-holed by Wilson.

The police commissioner's dramatic denial of graft was voiced in the hushed, crowded State House hearing room as Hall ended his direct examination.

"Have you ever at any time received a single cent or a single dollar to which you were not rightfully entitled?" Hall asked.

The eyes of the two men met. Wilson appeared nearly overcome.

Mr. Hall—"he began."

The prosecutor interrupted: "Mr. Wilson, will you answer my question, please?"

Wilson cried: "I will say to that—absolutely no."

Hall added: "And I will say that so far as I know and on the information I have now, that statement is true."

Receiving permission to amplify his statement, Wilson declared passionately:

"I have been in the public service since 1915. I first of all in the House of Representatives; two years in the State Senate; four years as building commissioner; eight years as police commissioner."

"During all that time I never took a cent of any person's money. I have never in my life taken a single dollar or a single cent that didn't belong to me."

"I can only say," said Hall, that on the present information I possess I believe that statement is true and have nothing to show it to be otherwise."

This was tantamount to an exonerated of the commissioner of any charges of graft and the first indication that the investigators had "nothing on Wilson" save his own damaging admission.

Wilson testified that on Jan. 28 last he was summoned to the Governor's office by the Governor's secretary, then when he arrived there he met Gov. Allen, his secretary, President Bacon

GARRETT CASE

WILSON ADMITS THE 'CHASE' For the Tercenary : : BY FRANKLIN COLLIER

WILSON GUZZLED MISSING RECORDS ABOUT GARRETT

How Garrett Kept Police Officials Chasing Him

of the Senate and Asst. Atty. Gen. Roger Clapp.

Based on the suggestion that he submit a letter to the Senate to clear up the matter, Clapp was not at all surprised at any time he was asked to do so.

The Governor, Bacon, Clapp and himself discussed Garrett's pension and books of status, pension and other matters.

"What was said by the Governor?" Stewart asked Wilson.

The Governor said he had an opinion from the attorney-general of the statutes where an officer on being granted could be re-examined in a year.

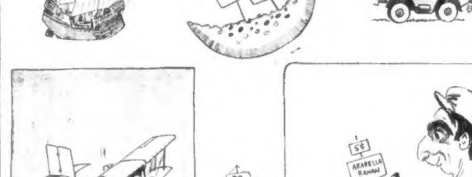

"Wilson never had had the confidence that it was his opinion the re-examination would be on the anniversary of Garrett's pensioning, which was the custom in the fire department."

It was remarked that the pensioning of Garrett was the beginning of the end of his career.

"He said I said I'd proceed to have it done."

The Governor said he thought it should have another examination made. It was also suggested that I write a letter to the president of the Senate.

FOLLOWING ON THE ARABELLA LINE.

There was a breach that would warrant you proceeding instantly to see whether he said it or not, wasn't it?" Hall asked.

The commissioner replied that Garrett was then away on vacation.

"Ah, Mr. Wilson, but didn't you, after the receipt of Gov. Allen's letter, send for other men to come back from their vacation?"

Wilson admitted he had.

"You didn't send for Garrett to come back from his?"

Wilson admitted he had.

The Garrett hearing opened at 10:35 a. m. Police Commissioner Wilson, with his secretary and the same mysterious young man of his party, arriving just before.

Atty. Gen. Joseph E. Warner was accompanied by Special Asst. Dennis E. Hall, who questioned Wilson as he took the stand again.

Q—What was the last night you said you were going to make a search to find whether there are any records in your department relative to what Garrett has reported to be lost in the newspaper prior to your receiving Governor Allen's letter enclosing the letter of Senator Mulhern. Have you found any such records?" A—No, sir. I have not.

Q—And you made a search?" A—I had no secretaries make it.

Q—What was as far as any records go which you and your secretary could find there was none that show until after Governor Allen sent the Senator Mulhern letter stating that Garrett had in some form of words threatened to "blow the lid off the police department" to show there was any attempt to verify or disprove any of the charges of that kind?" A—I talked it over with the superintendent the next morning. He referred my recollection to me.

Q—There was no attempt made to verify or disprove this statement until after the receipt of Governor Allen's letter enclosing Senator Mulhern's?" A—There was the same day.

Q—Now, Mr. Wilson, why were you in the face of such statements by a patrolman in your department?" A—It was a newspaper article and there were a quantity of newspaper articles written about it.

HINT OF THREAT

Then came the admission that Garrett was pensioned as a fireman's pension, which was the custom in the fire department.

It was remarked that the pensioning of Garrett was the beginning of the end of his career.

"He said I said I'd proceed to have it done."

The Governor said he thought it should have another examination made. It was also suggested that I write a letter to the president of the Senate.

HE DIDN'T KNOW

Q—Do you think it was a mere newspaper article?" A—I don't know whether it was or not.

Q—For a patrolman to state in substance or effect that he would blow the lid off the police department was a pretty grave breach of discipline, wasn't it?" A—If he said it.

Q—It was a breach of discipline that would warrant you proceeding instantly to see whether he said it or not, wasn't it?" A—He was away on vacation. When he came back he would be required to make a report.

Q—Mr. Wilson, but didn't you, after the receipt of Gov. Allen's letter, send for other men to come back from their vacation?" A—No, sir. I have not.

Q—You didn't send for Garrett to come back from his?" A—No, sir. I have not.

Q—If Garrett is in any of the police department that he is in the department and you make a search about it, and he is found?" A—If he is found, I will make a search.

Q—Wouldn't it be a breach of discipline if he is found?" A—No, sir.

ORDERED INQUIRY

Q—Well, let's see and Hall started rustling through papers. Crowder ordered an investigation into certain statements reported to have been made by Garrett on Aug. 13, the order for which investigation went out on Aug. 15.

Q—Now on the following day Lieut. McGrath reported to Mr. Crowder.

I respectfully report I interviewed Patrolman Garrett, assigned to this division, on August 10, 1929, relative to an alleged statement on August 14, 1929, that he was going to blow the lid off the police department. He refused to write anything further and he refused to be interviewed again.

Q—That's a pretty definite attitude for a patrolman to take, isn't it?" A—Yes, sir. Read the rest of it. I'll be going to read the rest of it. I'll be going to read the rest of it. I'll be going to read the rest of it.

YALE CLUB MEETING

President Bacon himself made the suggestion, but he left the Governor's office, although the attention of the Governor's office was called to the fact that he was in the Yale Club where he met Chapin by appointment.

"What did you do when you met him?"

"I showed him a draft of a letter I had written. He looked at it and said he would write one for me."

The letter was then introduced in what purported to be Clapp's handwriting.

The letter was sent to both Bacon and Clapp, and was read to the Yale Club. Wilson said he sent it to the Yale Club. Wilson said he sent it to the Yale Club.

CROWLEY'S ORDER

Hall then brought out that Supt. Crowley ordered investigation of the statement on Aug. 14, after he conferred with Wilson and that he had written a letter to the Yale Club. Wilson said he sent it to the Yale Club.

Wilson then declared that he had written a letter to the Yale Club. Wilson then declared that he had written a letter to the Yale Club.

ON WILSON'S ORDER

Q—The first item in charges filed against Garrett, alleging conduct unbecoming an officer, was specification 1, in that on Aug. 20, 1929, he refused to obey the command of a superior officer, namely, to obey McGrath's order to write a statement.

Q—Did you see the statement?" A—Yes, sir. I saw it.

Q—Did you see the statement?" A—Yes, sir. I saw it.

GARRETT ABSENT

Garrett was not in the house during that time to "blow the lid off" the police department. His attorney, Herbert F. Callahan, entered shortly before Wilson's direct examination in dramatic style.

While Wilson stepped to the stand Atty. Gen. Joseph E. Warner asked several questions. Mr. Allen, Senator Joseph J. Stinebaugh, and other officers back from their vacation were pensioned and was ready to return from vacation and was ready to return from vacation.

REPORT CHANGED

Hall then brought out that Wilson had sent for Dr. Bailey and that he had written a letter to the Yale Club. Wilson said he sent it to the Yale Club.

Wilson then declared that he had written a letter to the Yale Club. Wilson then declared that he had written a letter to the Yale Club.

KEEPING HIM QUIET

Q—You know you can keep a patrolman quiet temporarily by giving him something to do, don't you?" A—Yes.

Q—If you don't give him something to do, he will be quiet, don't you?" A—Yes.

Q—You know one of the things regarding the department that Garrett knew was of the kind which he had no power of discretion regarding the pension application.

WILSON IN DOUBT

At the very outset the commissioner was forced to admit he did not know whether he investigated the alleged "blow the lid" statement before or after receiving from Governor Allen Senator Joseph J. Stinebaugh's letter asking the meaning behind the threat.

Yesterday he had been positive he had issued an order for investigation, before receiving Mulhern's letter, but a search had not yet been made of the records of the department and he was not sure of the date or time when he issued the order.

LET GARRETT OFF

"If Garrett resigned and was off the department, this investigation would have been removed," Hall asked.

"I presume so," Wilson admitted.

"And instead of sending him a resignation, you would have sent him a letter asking for leave of absence?"

Wilson admitted that he would have sent him a letter asking for leave of absence.

Port Boosters Organize for Big Drive

"Five Times More Business in Five Years" Is Their Slogan

Celebrating its first birthday, the Foreign Commerce Club of Boston unanimously voted to throw its full strength of 129 shippers, brokers and other leaders behind a great 1930 development program of the Port of Boston.

A banquet and business meeting was held at the Hotel Statler last night. Officers were elected and a special committee named to coordinate with the Port Authority in their "big drive" plans.

Capt. William A. Hinton of the U. S. Shipping Board was chosen chairman of the committee of ways and means. His report will coordinate the 129 members into effective methods of "making Boston the port of the advantages of her port."

This organization is the first of its kind Boston ever had. Every member is admittedly an expert, one who has developed a career in his job as a shipmaster, broker or other form of foreign commerce.

This is the "Rotary Club of the waterfront." The officers elected are:

E. E. Kilbuck, of Stone & Downer, brokers and foreign freight commission; Philip J. Gavin, of the U. S. Shipping Board; vice-president, C. A. Gannett, of Stone & Downer, secretary and treasurer; Charles E. Ward, of the Port Authority board around enthusiastic with his slogan of "Five times the business in five years."

W. W. Luffin, collector of the port, was the life of the party with his drill comments. "I am sure," he predicted that in time such as this, as the British navy came from Boston, due to the railway rail-ward facilities.

Soviet Russia is her foe for steamship travel. Prior to the revolution, there was little such travel, as the Soviet secret police "suspected" every foreigner. Now, the industrially aroused nation has dropped the $22 incoming tariff for those who travel under the official Soviet Tourist Bureau. This expects 15,000 tourists in 1930.

HERE'S GOOD NEWS! Grocery prices are down! Compared with last October grocery prices average 9% lower.

This means 91c now buys what you had to pay $1.00 for only a few months ago.

A&P's millions of customers are getting the full benefit of every saving which has occurred to-date due to declining wholesale prices. Since October 15th the wholesale prices of important staple groceries have declined 9%.

Since October 15th A&P's retail prices on such staple groceries have been reduced 9%.

This is possible because the A&P stores do not carry big inventories . . . therefore A&P is in the fortunate position of being able to pass on to its customers promptly . . . the full benefit of the lower prices which falling markets bring.

And another reason why your dollar goes further at the A&P Food Stores is because less than 2 1/2% of it represents A&P's profit.

*As shown by indexes based on over 40 of the most important grocery items, weighted in accordance with the percentage of the total grocery business which they represent.

GRATEFUL and GRACEFUL

Arch Preserver Shoes for women make feet grateful for a comfort they have never known before. They accomplish this without awkwardness or sacrifice of grace.

The scientific structure of Arch Preserver Shoes combined with artistic skill of the designers, give comfort and style in the same shoe.

The steel arch supports the weight of the body without strain or effort. The metatarsal feature provides correct co-operation with the forward arch of the foot. The perfectly flat innersole prevents cramping of toes, and squeezing of tiny blood vessels.

If you have never tried a pair before, a new comfort sensation awaits you. If you have never been fitted by my exclusive system of "heel-to-ball" fitting, you do not yet know how perfect a fit can be.

Try a pair of Arch Preserver Shoes today. Try them for comfort or for style. You will be pleased both ways.

PRINCESS SEES 'RED' MENACE IN PACIFISM

By NANCY BREWSTER

A warning to American women to recognize the "redness" of pacifism as the advance guard of communism, propaganda was sounded by Princess Julia Cantagione, granddaughter of General Thomas G. Grant, in an address before 500 members of the Women's Republican Club of Massachusetts.

"I saw this same method used in Russia, before communism overwhipped the civilization of that country," the princess declared. "I know the signs from years of observation, living in Russia before and during the Great War."

"Having seen it used to undermine ability, first the national defense, and then the religious and moral defense of Russia, I want you to be able to recognize these dangerous signs of a movement that is world wide, with Russia being used as the spring board from where communists are attacking the whole world."

Princess Cantagione pointed the young struggle of Russia on its side against Red propaganda at a time when the money was scarce and hungry, shut off from communication with the Allies and ready to believe the Utopian dreams told to them by communists.

"Many Russians have begged me wherever possible to express their gratitude to America for not recognizing the Soviet government," she concluded. "At the same time they appreciate greatly the material assistance by this country in their time of greatest need following the war."

54 Pianos to Loan FREE!

We have 54 pianos (Grands, Players and Uprights, both new and used instruments) to place in homes of Boston and vicinity and they may be used until we need them—which will be an indefinite time. A number of the company's retail stores have been discontinued and many of these instruments have been selected from our Norfolk, Richmond and Lynchburg stocks. Instead of storing these pianos to depreciate in value we are ready to take the loss now and have these instruments at greatly reduced figures and anyone contemplating the purchase of a piano in the next few months cannot afford to miss this opportunity. All pianos not sold outright will be placed in the homes of families who are interested in using a piano in the immediate future, and for the valuable advertising we receive by having good families use them. We reserve the right to select the homes in which these pianos are to be placed.

Many radios, phonograph combinations, phonographs and records will be sold at prices almost unbelievable.

No charge, no rent or any expense whatever. You must call at the store to make your selection. There are no strings to this offer, which comes but once in a lifetime.

KELVINATOR'S

gives you ...
not only better food refrigeration ...
it also gives you more ice

4-WAY COLD MEANS

1. Super-Fast Freezing—A special compartment that makes ice and freezes desserts in from $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ the ordinary time—due to Kelvinator's exclusive use of Iso-Thermic Tubes.
2. Greater Ice Capacity—Regular ice compartments, plus Fast Freezing Compartment, provide more ice in relation to cabinet size, than any other electric refrigerator.
3. Cold Storage—In deluxe models, a separate compartment with Below-Freezing Temperature for frozen fruits, ice creams and other delicacies; meats, fish and game. These should be kept extra cold—and you can keep them extra cold with Kelvinator and with no other refrigerator.
4. Scientific Cold Range—Main food compartment maintained at 40° to 50°—eliminating all danger of spoilage which science says may be caused either by too low or too high a temperature.

When hot weather makes cooling drinks a necessity for your guests—when an ice shortage would be a source of explanation and embarrassment—then the thoughtful hostess will appreciate more than ever the far greater ice capacity of Kelvinator's 4-Way Cold.

As established in Continent-wide tests, by 5,000 New Essex Challengers

All motordom saw the amazing results of Challenger Week.

The New Essex Challenger set outstanding marks in every locality. It climbed hills seldom attempted by any car. It set new marks for acceleration. The really important thing is that equal's fine marks were made by Essex right here in this locality. And yet it was all the same true no matter what city or community you visit. For these facts were established—not by just a few hand-picked specially tuned cars—but 5,000 Essex Challengers in all parts of the country, many of them owner-driven. The results speak for what any and every New Essex Challenger can do.

You will be delighted with Essex beauty. Interiors are luxuriously finished. There are eight models and a wide choice of colors at no extra cost. The New Essex

The statement in question from the lips of Special Assistant Attorney General William E. Hall today brought a sharp answer from the Boston Times. Wilson near the close of the latter's examination.

Not absolutely not? Wilson shot back.

Hall said, so far as I know that is true.

Daily Health Hint for Readers

THE Journal of the American Medical Association has been the first to publish a study that suggests that the use of a single, low-dose, long-acting antipsychotic drug may be more effective than a combination of two or more drugs in the treatment of schizophrenia. The study, published in the Journal of the American Medical Association, found that patients who received a single, low-dose, long-acting antipsychotic drug had a significantly higher rate of response than those who received a combination of two or more drugs. The study also found that patients who received a single, low-dose, long-acting antipsychotic drug had a significantly lower rate of side effects than those who received a combination of two or more drugs. The study was conducted by a team of researchers from the University of California, San Francisco, and the University of California, Los Angeles.
